Gen. Homma Is Placed On Trial For 'Death March'

Witness Testifies Gen. Homma Near Scene Of Slaughtering Of U. S. And Filipino Soldiers

PRISON CAMP CONDITIONS TOLD

MANILA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A Japanese major-general testified today that Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma sat within sight and sound of the slaughtering of American and Filipino soldiers during the bestial Bataan "death march."

This evidence against the early-war conqueror of the Philippines came from a source who was Gen. Homma's staff officer.

Deny Appeals
Earlier, determined defense bids for dismissal, postponement and particularization of charges against Homma were summarily denied.

The American military tribunal emphasized that Homma was being tried under the laws of humanity and was, therefore, not subject to protections afforded by the U. S. constitution.

Takatsu, testifying at the opening session of the war crimes trial of his commander, said Homma's headquarters were within 500 yards of where Japanese soldiers butchered those fallen along the "death march."

Inspected Camp

The staff officer also swore that he had inspected the infamous camp O'Donnell, where 30,000 American and Filipino prisoners of war died of disease and inhuman treatment.

At the time of his inspection, Takatsu told the American military commission trying Homma, 300 prisoners were dying in the overcrowded camp, where food, medicine and water were shockingly inadequate.

Takatsu testified that he had reported to Homma and then further damned his commander by disclosing that Japanese authorities were disdainful of the fate of prisoners of war during the flush of victory after the fall of Corregidor.

Vets Bureau In New Offices Now

Move Into Headquarters On Second Floor Of L. S. And T. Building Wednesday

MORE HELP IS BEING ADDED

Work of moving from the seventh floor suite of the L. S. and T. Building, Washington street, to the new headquarters on the second floor of the same building was completed by the United States Veterans Administration Wednesday, and today the office force is now ensconced in their location. Worrell M. Jones, official in charge announced today.

Additional personnel is being added to the staff here, two local people having been added recently. They are Harold G. Koach and Mrs. Sophia O. Casbero, in the contact division.

The Veterans Administration will occupy the entire 3,500 feet of floor space as rapidly as possible and medical and other supplies are being received for the work which will eventually be carried on here.

The lack for the present is that of medical and dental help, and training officers. These must be supplied through civil service and there are not enough applicants at the present time to take care of the demands of the government, Mr. Jones stated. They will be added to the staff here as fast as they can be secured, so that the complete facilities of the Veterans Administration will be available to the veterans of the local area.

U. S. Had Scant Information On Jap Navy Moves

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Admiral Harold R. Stark admitted today that America's pre-Pearl Harbor knowledge of Japanese military developments "stopped at the three-mile limit" while Japan "knew exactly what we had."

The 1941 chief of naval operations made this statement in partial explanation of why the navy believed that the Japanese task force which raided Hawaii was in Nipponese "home waters" when actually it was en route for its Dec. 7 attack.

Stark told the Pearl Harbor committee that the estimate by navy intelligence that Jap carriers were in Japanese waters was "the best we had to go on."

Stark said he hesitated to give an off-hand recommendation of future intelligence requirements but agreed that it would be well for Congress to "look into the subject" for remedial legislation.

Two Schoolboys Held In Murder

Fifteen And Sixteen-Year-Old Boys Face Murder-Robbery Charges At Allentown

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Two Lehigh county schoolboys were held today for the murder and robbery of Edwin A. Mickle, 63, a farmer, last December 13.

The youths were: Earl Goerlich, 15, a seventh grade pupil at the Ironton school in North Whitehall township. William Seldridge, 16, a freshman at South Whitehall high school.

Arrested in School
Goerlich was arrested yesterday in his classroom for complicity in the murder, police said. Seldridge was taken into custody at his home.

District Attorney Theodore R. Gardner, of Lehigh county, said Goerlich confessed to firing the shot which killed the farmer and then, with Seldridge, robbed Mickle of about $2,000.

Some of the money, Gardner reported, was recovered yesterday. The 22 caliber rifle used in the slaying also has been located, he added.

The district attorney said Mickle's allegedly stolen automobile which was found concealed behind a haystack on a little-used back road mid-way between Goerlich's and Seldridge's homes led to their apprehension.

Housing Bill Under Attack

Allegheny County Home Builders Association Asails Proposal Before Congress

DOESN'T REMEDY BUILDING NEEDS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Allegheny County Home Builders association today denounced the Wagner-Elender-Taft general housing bill and claimed it showed "class distinction" and borders on "inflation."

N. W. Watkins, executive director of the association, charged that the proposed bill is merely a camouflage for the "federalizing" of industry through public housing. Watkins declared:

Revolutionary Proposals

"The bill is loaded with revolutionary proposals which strike at the very heart of the nation's second largest industry. It combines supported aids to private enterprise and at the same time sets up vast slum clearance and public housing problems."

"Because of their highly competitive nature, those activities should not be presented to Congress in a single bill."

Watkins said the bill does not (Continued on Page Two)

Strikes Baffle Labor Experts Of Government

Seek To Stem Strike Spread Until Pattern Of Wage Settlement Is Evolved

HOPE SOLUTION TO BE FOUND SOON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Government labor experts sought today to stem the widening array of strikes and strike threats until a major reconversion wage settlement can be established as a pattern for the nation's industrial ills.

Industrial disputes threatened to tie up telephone and telegraph communications throughout the nation, curtail meat sales, cut off the supply of steel and further slowdown America's return to peacetime economy.

This darkening labor picture formed a backdrop for President Truman's report to the nation tonight which is expected to touch on the strike situation and emphasize the need for congress to authorize fact-finding boards to work out labor peace.

Hope For Solution

Harrassed administration officials meanwhile, clung to the belief that attainment of an effective compromise in one of the country's big industries—steel or automobiles—will break the logjam to a speedy solution of the labor problem.

One of the top developments on the labor scene in Washington today was a meeting of the CIO's "Big Three" strategy committee.

The meeting was scheduled as some 19,000 members of the independent Western Electric Employees Association in the New York area posed the latest industrial crisis with a strike set for 11 a. m. this morning.

Some 3,000 Western Union Telegraph workers in New York voted to strike next Tuesday in an action that might become nationwide.

Last Minute Conferences

Last-minute conferences between union and management representatives with federal conciliators failed to effect a settlement of the wage dispute. A sympathy strike of 200,000 telephone workers may be called in a week or ten days.

Western Electric officials planned to discuss with conciliators a union proposal for a governmental fact-finding board to handle the case.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, millions of self-respecting people in the war-devastated lands of Europe, China and the Philippines, struggling for survival against hunger and disease and cold, are in dire need of clothing, shoes and bedding, and are subject to death from exposure and

WHEREAS, the 25,000,000 of these destitute people who benefited through the first United Nations Clothing Collection are only a fraction of those in need, and

WHEREAS, the meeting of this urgent need overseas will serve not only to relieve suffering humanity, but will aid liberated peoples to revive their economic life and enable their rehabilitated countries to contribute a full share towards the creation of a lasting peace, and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States has said and justifies a second appeal to the American people, and

WHEREAS, the Victory Clothing Collection is an effort to meet the great emergency.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John F. Haven, mayor of the city of New Castle, Pa., urge all religious, educational, public and labor groups to cooperate in this collection of clothing, shoes and bedding in addition to shoes and bedding may be reached.

AFB I urge contributors to attach post-will messages to their gifts of clothing.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the city to be affixed on this third day of January, 1946.

Mayor of New Castle, Pa.

Million And Half Workers Now Involved In Strikes Or Threatened Tieups

(By International News Service)

More than a million and a half American union workers were either on strike today or threatening to strike in the next two weeks.

Communications—A strike of 19,000 Western Electric employees in the New York area, set for 11 a. m., was to be followed by consideration of a nationwide sympathy strike by 263,000 telephone workers. At the same time, 3,000 Western Union Telegraph workers in New York voted to strike Jan. 8 in an action which also might spread to other cities.

Motors—General Motors' dispute with 200,000 striking members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) was still before a fact-finding panel which admitted inability to complete its report today.

Crashed Mystery Plane Hunted In Lake St. Clair

Small Two-Seater Plane Seen To Crash Into Icy Waters, No Survivors Found

DETROIT, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Two Army aircraft joined the search today for wreckage of a mystery plane which crashed into ice floes in Lake St. Clair while apparently attempting an emergency deadstick landing.

The small aircraft, described by witnesses to the tragedy as a two-seater, was last seen with a dead engine skimming treetops near the Grosse Pointe Yacht club, in suburban Detroit.

Planes Take Up Search
The Selfridge Field Army Air base dispatched two airplanes, a B-17 equipped for such emergencies, and a small scout plane, after the Coast Guard cutter "Acacia" vainly patrolled waters between the Yacht club and Belle Isle throughout the night and morning.

Home base of the missing airplane remained a mystery after Detroit and Windsor airfields reported all aircraft accounted for.

Witnesses told police they saw the plane crash into Lake St. Clair shortly before dusk yesterday and estimated the mishap occurred about 2,000 yards off-shore. Subsequently, a DC-3 aircraft searched the area without success.

Assert Bormann Is 'Definitely Dead'

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A British counter-intelligence announcement that former deputy Fuehrer Martin Bormann now on trial in absentia at Nuremberg was "definitely dead."

The dispatch said Bormann was decapitated by the explosion of a German tank as he fled a Berlin Reichschancellery air raid shelter in which Adolf Hitler and other Nazis awaited the fall of Berlin.

Commenting on reports the case against Bormann might be dropped, Chief U. S. War Crimes Prosecutor Robert H. Jackson said in Nuremberg that he had not seen the British intelligence reports.

"I still don't know whether Bormann is alive or dead. If the case is dropped it will not be until all the evidence is heard."

Plenty Of Fish For Dinner Table

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The fishery council today added a reassuring note to the scheduled nationwide meat strike—

A spokesman for the council said that more than 150 million pounds of fish are held in warehouses throughout the country.

Western Electric Employees Strike

Over 17,000 Employees In New York, New Jersey Area Quit Work Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Western Electric Company's 17,400 employees walked out on strike today abandoning their jobs promptly at the zero hour of 11 a. m. EST.

The firm's 21 plants are located in New York and New Jersey, crux of the strike is a wage dispute with the company offering 15 per cent and the independent union demanding 30 per cent.

Last minute efforts to avert the strike failed the intervention of a federal labor conciliator.

The walkout raised the threat of a possible nationwide tieup of telephone and telegraph communications.

The Western Electric strike, came as 263,000 members of the national federation of telephone workers were considering a request of their president to authorize a nationwide sympathy strike.

In an independent action, 3,000 members of the American Communication Association (CIO) had voted to strike at 11 a. m. next Tuesday. This action would cripple Western Union Telegraph operators in the New York area and also might spread to the nation as a whole.

William Joyce Hanged In Jail In Great Britain

Pays Supreme Penalty On Treason Charge, For Nazi Radio Propaganda

LAST EFFORT FOR REPRIEVE FAILS

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—William Joyce, the Lord Haw-Haw of the Nazi propaganda radio, was hanged in Wandsworth prison today for high treason to the British crown.

Joyce went to the gallows calmly after last-minute visits from his wife, his sister and his brother, Quentin. He slept during the night.

He died in the same navy blue suit he wore during his trial for treason. The executioner was Albert Pierpoint, who hanged 151 infamous Beasts of Belsen gang in Germany and a second British radio traitor, John Amery.

The Brooklyn-born traitor, who claimed American citizenship as his defense, died after refusal of British Home Secretary Cleeve Ede to grant a reprieve. His last days were spent playing chess and studying metaphysics.

Prison Gates Guarded

Extra police guarded the prison gates as some 50 persons gathered an hour before the trap was sprung at nine a. m. (four a. m. EST.)

Newspaper cameramen photographed the crowd from nearby automobiles. There was no demonstration, but one Joyce sympathizer declared:

"To hang Joyce is ridiculous. He is a German citizen. It is like Hitler hanging one of our men for defending his own country."

"When I visited Joyce in prison he behaved as you would expect a (Continued on Page Two)

Gen. MacArthur Reveals That Japan Faces Critical Food Period Just Ahead

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The War department today studied Gen. Douglas MacArthur's report on Japan in which he revealed the defeated empire faces starvation and disease unless supplies of food, fertilizers and raw materials are imported.

MacArthur's first overall report to the department on his administration of Japan termed the next three months as "critical."

In addition to the food and health problem, the general said an inadequate transportation system was aggravated by disastrous decline in coal production.

Shortages Certain
The War department was advised that present estimates indicate that there will be a shortage of probably more than three and a half million metric tons of food in 1946 for the Japanese. Typhoon and (Continued on Page Two)

Prisoners Found To Be Killers In Philadelphia

Police Arrest Two On Robbery Charge, Later Find Out Arrested Duo Were Slayers

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—In the murder case of Thomas J. Burnby, 67-year-old hardware dealer, Philadelphia police had "all their eggs in one basket" and didn't know it.

Burnby's killing has been solved now, police said, but in a manner that makes detective stories popular reading.

For nearly three weeks, the alleged killers were held in Moyamensing prison awaiting trial on charges of attempted robbery.

Unsuspicious Police

All that time, too, police possessed, without knowing it, the 32-caliber revolver with which Burnby tried to protect himself.

It happened like this: Burnby was found murdered in his tiny, dusty shop, shot three times with 38-caliber bullets. There were no other clues.

Later the same evening, two youths attempting to hold-up a grocery store were intercepted by police and one was arrested. The other was captured the next day, and in his pocket when he was taken into custody was a 32-caliber revolver.

Find Murder Gun

Then, an unidentified informant told police: "That 32 revolver that killed Burnby... you'll find it under an ice box in the Master street house (where the second alleged hold-up man was captured)."

Visiting the house, detectives found the gun. The two already imprisoned men were questioned, and according to police, confessed to the slaying.

Police identified the men as David Brooks, 21, and Albert Woodling, 21, both of Philadelphia.

man of destiny to deport himself." Three men and a woman apparently were the only ones in the crowd who professed sympathy for the accused, 39-year-old traitor who fled England at the outbreak of the war to broadcast his sometimes amusing, always sarcastic comments from the safety of a German haven.

Betrayed His Country

Convicted by a lower court, Joyce applied to the House of Lords, which upheld the ruling that his acceptance of a British passport made him liable to British law.

The clipped British accent heard on millions of radios throughout the British Isles during the war belonged to a quiet man who became spectacular only when he betrayed his country for the meager pay of a minor employee of the Nazi propaganda ministry.

He was captured in the British occupation zone of Germany after the fall of Nazism. He was hanged by two British soldiers when he made a movement as though to draw a gun.

The crowd outside the prison swelled to 250 persons—including women with shopping baskets and men in work clothes—a few minutes before a posted notice announced the execution had been carried out.

The execution notice and a medical certification of Joyce's death were posted on a large blackboard on the prison gates.

Auto Inspection Importance Cited

Check-Up Period Will End January 31; Motorists Should Not Delay

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris today emphasized the importance of semi-annual motor vehicle inspection as a safety measure and urged car owners not to delay in having the work done promptly in the current inspection period ending January 31.

In a statement, Secretary Harris said:

Valuable Measure

"Car inspection, mandatory twice a year under law, is one of the most valuable and practical safety measures ever conceived in the interest of safe driving. Undoubtedly it has been and will continue to be responsible for saving many lives on our streets and highways by preventing accidents due to mechanical breakdown. Careful inspection reveals defects in brakes, steering, headlights, tires, windshield wipers and other mechanical parts of motor vehicles, failure of any one of which may easily cause a death-dealing accident. With so many cars of ancient vintage on the road today over-used parts are bound to give away. Inspection will safeguard the car owners against such hazards.

Important Check

"Car inspection should be rated in importance with a physical check-up by the doctor. In the latter case it is your life alone that is involved. In the case of the car it is both your life and the other fellow's."

"It is advisable not to delay in having the vehicle inspected so as to avoid last minute congestion, which may prove embarrassing to both car owner and inspection station operator."

"Don't wait. Have it done now. The new sticker must be on the windshield not later than midnight of January 31, 1946 to comply with the law. There will be no time extension."

Baby Your Car In Bad Weather

Urges Care Taken With Vehicles As There Will Be Few On Market

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Baby your buggy through snowy weather for it will be longer than you think before you get a new one. T. Elmer Transeau, director of Highway Safety, advised motorists today.

Even if you don't consider your old car vital to this country's bright post-war future, said Transeau, you may smash into someone who is.

Accidents Wasteful

Traffic accidents are a tremendous, avoidable, disgraceful waste at all times, Transeau said, and more than ever at a time like this, when every traffic accident may remove another scarce automobile from the country's dwindling supply of essential transportation.

He gave a brief check list for motorists intending to drive when snow and ice weather become more severe, and suggested that motorists who couldn't check all five items should leave their cars in their garages.

Important Items

Do your brakes grip evenly? Is your windshield wiper operating properly? Are your tire chains ready to be put on? Are your lights aligned and do they work on the low beam? Does your motor have sufficient anti-freeze?

Answering "Yes" to all five doesn't end the safe driver's responsibility, said Transeau. He must still remember to reduce speed in bad weather, watch for pedestrians and children on sleds, leave plenty of space between himself and the car ahead, and so slow on icy curves.

three pistols while five swarthy gunmen looted the treasury of the gambling resort of a sum variously reported at from $40,000 to $75,000.

Said Miss Grable: "I was so excited I just don't know what happened. It was all over quickly."

Jewels Not Bothered

The holdup men entered the gaming place wearing handkerchiefs for masks. The leader ordered: "line up everyone. This is a stickup."

The film folk, some of whom were wearing a fortune in jewels, were not robbed. If the gunmen had any intentions in that direction the holdup ended before they got a chance.

Two employees dashed from the place to avoid the alarm and the gangster made a hasty exit. They fled in a black sedan while the watchmen fired two shots at the car.

Forty infants were born at the New Castle hospital during the month of December, 19 being female infants and 21 male infants. This is a decrease from the month of November when 60 births were recorded at the hospital.

Apparently all of the deer which roamed around in Lawrence county during the hunting season were not shot. Pa Newc is informed that recently four were seen in a group in the vicinity of Edinburg.

Just another little reminder about last year's winter. During December, 48 inches, or four feet, of snow fell. Not all of it stayed on the ground, however. Then on New Year's Day almost four inches of snow fell and was drifted onto the highways, blocking most of the secondary roads, and closing down the schools. It was some winter, if you can remember.

HOUSING BILL UNDER ATTACK

remedy the problems of securing building materials and labor, which are retarding all housing construction.

Needs Less Regulating

"What the building industry needs," Watkins said, "is a release from government control and regulation."

The home builders' spokesman charged that if the 500,000 housing units, which the bill calls for during the next four years, are provided, building materials and labor will be drained from private construction at a time when the industry is struggling to reorganize its production facilities.

Watkins added:

The bill borders on inflation since it calls for an initial expenditure of $6,220,000,000 of the taxpayers' money. The hard-pressed private owner will pay for public housing projects because the projects themselves are tax free.

NEWLYWEDS WILL LIVE IN HILLSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walter Garber, bride and groom of December 21, have taken up residence for the present in Hillsville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Garber, Bessemer-Hillsville road.

Mrs. Garber is the former Betty Jane Zinkham, of Rochester.

The wedding was solemnized at a candlelight service in the Baptist church of Rochester with Rev. S. Sheldon hearing the exchange of vows.

Miss Grace Zinkham was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Ramsey and Miss Alice Stormfels. Raymond Ziegler and Oliver Hole were ushers.

A reception in the church parlors followed the evening ceremony. Mrs. Garber is a graduate of Rochester high school and the groom attended Bessemer high school. Mr. Garber was recently discharged from service after 3½ years in this country, in Africa, and in Italy, and has resumed work with the Republic Steel Company in Youngstown.

VEIT-CROSS WEDDING EVENT

On New Year's eve at 7 o'clock in the First U. P. church, Glenmore boulevard, Miss Elizabeth Veit, of the Harbor road, and James D. Cross, of 312 Fern street, were united in marriage with a single ring ceremony performed by Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the church, in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride wore a brown suit with an olive green blouse, brown hat and brown and white accessories and a shoulder corsage of white gardenias. She wore a triple strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. George Gettings, her only attendant, wore a red suit with black accessories and a corsage of roses.

Mr. Gettings was best man for the groom.

Soft organ music preceding and during the ceremony was played by Mrs. Sophia Dunlap, church organist.

Following the ceremony a turkey dinner was served in The Castleton room to 60 guests seated at a U-shaped table decorated in yellow and white mums and tall lighted candles. In front of the bride and groom was a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross left on a wedding trip to Detroit and Mr. Clemens, Mich., and on their return in three weeks will be at home at 312 Fern street.

Cost Of Strikes

Money loss because of strikes is known to be enormous, but no definite figures are yet available. In Detroit alone loss in wages, already estimated at more than $30,000,000, is mounting daily. That is not the whole story. Tradesmen report sales of food off more than half. Savings accounts are being depleted. War bonds are being cashed.

Strike of Ford workers at the Canadian plant in Windsor cost a pretty penny. The loss in wages, as announced in a survey made by the Board of Commerce of that city, was $14,000,000. This includes pay of those in the main plant and of workers in other factories who went out in sympathy. Retail business was all but paralyzed.

The Canadian strike was called off on the basis of renewed negotiations and arbitration of remaining differences. Strikes are ever wasteful to the point where thousands become impoverished and reduced to economic positions which will require months of labor and saving to restore solvency. Strikes are something which the nation cannot afford, and if those now in governmental authority can't meet this problem, they should be replaced at the polls by men who will.

The Lambs Are Back

Members of the New York Stock Exchange are worried about the lambs. In the language of the stock market, the lambs are the little fellows who risk their few dollars blindly and nearly always lose their money. The dictionary says a lamb, according to this definition of the word, is "one who speculates amateurishly."

The piling up of savings at low interest, the absence of needed goods from the market, and reports of a boom in business have excited the gambling instinct of many people who know nothing about sound investment in corporation shares.

These novices are coming into the market with enough money and enough recklessness to upset normal trading. Their influence is helping to boost prices regardless of the yield of shares or the possibility of yield.

The Stock Exchange members are also worried about themselves. They remember the boom market of 1929-30, when 8,000,000 people were speculating. The inevitable collapse wiped nearly all of them out and the political consequences were a federal law imposing severe restrictions on trading. The law calls for higher margins and certain cash transactions in an effort to discourage the lambs. But there is no way to keep a man with money from buying and selling shares.

Probably the efforts of the Stock Exchange to discourage speculation by the little man will fail. It is in the nature of some men to take a chance with their money. The vast sums gambled on horse racing, and in pools, numbers games and slot machines are a measure of yearning for excitement and easy and quick games. The lambs are back and inviting the shearing which they will receive.

More G.I.'s To 'Help' China

General Wedemeyer's call for 3000 to 4000 more American soldiers to help "rush Chinese Nationalist forces into Manchuria" highlights the peculiar and still puzzling character of our activities in China.

We're not getting out of the country for some time to come. That's evident. There are 50,000 Marines guarding railways and other communications and property in North China. Army troops now total 12,000. The purpose, it is explained, is to "supervise debarcation, handle supply problems and give other aid in line with American policy" as large Central Government forces are moved into Manchuria.

It seems odd that Chiang Kai-shek's army can't handle such matters itself, but the answer probably is that it doesn't have trained elements capable of doing the work.

Only one consideration can justify this continued American military participation in Chinese affairs. It is that it may speed up the deployment of Chiang's army and permit early establishment of adequate government, especially in Manchuria. This would make it possible for both America and Russia to pull out in accordance with the stipulations included in the latest Big Three pronouncement at Moscow.

That, it is hoped, is the only reason for the proposal to have more American soldiers shipped into China. If we've got to go in deeper it must be in order to get our boys out sooner.

We can't stabilize China. That's up to the Chinese themselves. It should be made clear that it is at present that any help we are giving is to enable the Chinese to take over their own job as soon as possible.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Latest slogan of Uncle Sam's international economic policy seems to be "come and get it!"

Governor Stassen of Minnesota proposes that President Truman call a conference to work out a 10-year program of co-operation by government, business, labor and agriculture. Judging from what happened at the recent labor-industry conference called by the President it would seem that Governor Stassen's suggested conference would come to the plate with two strikes on it.

Public Should Know Real Auto Strike Issues

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—As the old year ended, almost all automobile production was stopped by strikes and parts shortages. Instead of the predicted half million units, the industry in 1945 produced about 75,000 cars.

Reports out of Detroit indicate that in the first month of the new year production will be under 100,000 units as compared to an estimated 300,000.

The immediate reason, of course, is the stalemate in the strike of the United Auto Workers against General Motors. It is now in its seventh week and there is no indication that any end is in sight.

In fact, the prospect is bleaker than it was two weeks ago. In the face of what seems to be a hopeless impasse, the time has come, it seems to me, to ask certain fundamental questions.

In the statement issued by General Motors as the company walked out on President Truman's fact-finding board, there was no indication of any acceptance of the process of collective bargaining. That statement read like a thinly-veiled attack on unions as such.

If not the largest employer in the country, GM certainly is one of the three or four largest. During the week of war production the company had a half million employees. Operating full scale today, GM would have 300,000 to 400,000 men and women on the payroll.

This, therefore, is no ordinary business. It directly involves the welfare of more than a million human beings. In view of its vast scope and in view of the fact that the way this strike is ended may set a precedent for all industry, it is pertinent to ask this question:

Do the executives of General Motors believe in the process of collective bargaining as carried on through independent unions of the workers own choosing?

In the light of all that has happened since 1933—the National Labor Relations Act and the succession of Supreme court decisions upholding the right of collective bargaining—this question might seem to be superfluous. But among union members and even in public opinion generally the suspicion is beginning to grow that this is a fight to break the power of the unions.

That suspicion was heightened among unionists when GM brought in as its spokesman lawyer Gordon Merritt, a New York lawyer who, beginning with the Danbury Hatters case, has engaged in incessant warfare against trade unions.

General Motors in its statement says it "refuses to subscribe to what it believes will ultimately come, through the process of evolution, the death of the American system of competitive enterprise." This raises a fundamental question for the union.

Do the leaders of the United Auto Workers believe in the system of free enterprise for profit? In the reply that the UAW made to GM there was implied at least an answer to this question. It was also an indication that the strike could be settled on more reasonable terms than the 30 per cent raise. In their statement the UAW said:

"But the General Motors workers, who have already sacrificed so much in this strike, will not accept less than the 30 per cent increase in wages rates needed to maintain take-home pay, except and to the extent that the economic facts may show that General Motors cannot pay that increase without increasing prices to the consumers."

In other words if it can be shown that a pay raise of 30 per cent will accept. That is a recognition of the terms of private enterprise.

The public is entitled to know what are the real issues in this quarrel. If it is collective bargaining in the American sense then we can hope eventually for a settlement. In this connection reports persist that an important faction within GM is ready to offer an 18 per cent increase which would be acceptable to the union.

But if this is a showdown fight to break one side or the other, then the public should know it. For the outcome concerns not just one company and one union but all of us.

Politics Of 1946

And Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. THOSE who hope to see Congress in the new year legislate intelligently in the national interests and our political rulers competently and courageously deal with our basic domestic problems are going of course, again to be disappointed.

EXPECTATIONS along these lines are never fully realized. Most that justifiably can be hoped for is a very partial fulfillment. The combination of strong political leadership, together with an aroused and supporting public sentiment, essential for more than that, occurs very rarely. Most of the time the vast unwieldy, uncoordinated governmental machine proceeds to do most of the things it should not do and leaves undone many it should do. That is a reasonably accurate description of the way the unrestricted, universal suffrage system (with all its faults it is better than any other of which we know) works. In a year such as 1946 it is an absolutely accurate description.

FOR, aside from the fact that there is no strong leadership in sight, there are two things about 1946 which to a realistic man seem to preclude the effective action of which the nation stands in such obvious need—on such matters, for example, as real reduction in the size and cost of government and the enactment of fair, sensible and comprehensive labor legislation. One of these things is that 1946 is an election year, the other is that it will almost beyond doubt, be a year of general prosperity. Either would make the prospect poor for straightforward and unequivocal action, either congressional or executive on the vital issues that press upon us. Both of them make that kind of action almost impossible.

The ELECTION is important. Not only does it involve control of the House but it easily may affect the presidential election of 1948. This means that from January 14 when Congress reconvenes, until November, politics will flavor heavily every debate and every vote in the legislative branch and many of the acts and attitudes of the executive.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

RETURNING SERVICE FATHERS

Some young mothers are a bit discouraged over the progress the returning veteran is making with the young son or daughter he had never seen before coming home. I never knew how many cases are illustrated by the following:

While my husband was overseas our little son was born. Billy is now 18 months old and when his father returned home last month, that was the first time he had seen him. I realize that the responsibility of being a father is difficult for a man to assume when he has missed so much of his child's babyhood. And this is where my problem enters the picture.

Know Each
How can the father and son learn to know each other if the father makes no attempt to make friends and ignores the child almost completely? The past week or two, I've been trying to stay out of the picture occasionally, letting just the two of them be together, thinking my absence would make a difference. Once or twice I have asked my husband if he would care to take Billy outside for a little while to play in the yard if he doesn't manage to excite himself some way. He takes Billy, but so very reluctantly. And then the way things are from day to day.

"Bringing up a child is not only a woman's job. I've been doing my best for 18 months, but I was all the while just waiting for the time when the three of us could be together like a normal family. Now that we are things just aren't working out the way I expected. I imagine the last two years of comparative bachelor freedom are making this adjustment difficult for my husband, but it hurts me to see him shut Billy out constantly."

Outside Entertainment
It seems he isn't happy here at home with us but is always seeking outside entertainment, all of which isn't promoting harmony between the two of us. I may not be as patient as I am understanding. as I

Post-War Status Is Viewed By Columnist
Up To Women To Avert A Third World War
Says Women Must Have Ideas And Ideals

By HELEN ESSARY

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A most appressive moment, bowing in of 1946 with 365 clean, untarnished days ahead ready to be used for honest thinking and honorable deeds.

So many and so potent are the possibilities for the year facing us, that it frightens me even to consider what might happen to you and me and the rest of the crazy world.

However, I am tempted to wonder out loud about one of the million unsolved problems of 1946. To wit, what will be the status of women in the first year of that which was meant to be the post-war millennium?

Some cynics say that women have not advanced their place in the world one iota by their war-time behavior. Other more vinegary critics go still further in their criticism of women and what they did and did not do, during the war, and make quite clearly that instead of taking the superb opportunity the war offered to prove themselves first-rate human beings and entitled to both respect and admiration, they have set their cause back a 100, 500 years. Perhaps a 1,000 years.

Women Criticized
Indeed, I have heard some particularly disillusioned members of both sexes protest the manner in which some women conducted themselves overseas.

Undoubtedly men, the great fighting creatures, all but put the world in the Stone Age by their heroic World War II.

But was this reason for women trailing along back to the Stone Age too? Did they have to agree weekly to what many of them thought unnecessary slaughter and wrecking of standards of decency?

Few women according to what you have seen and heard at home and what you have heard reported from abroad had the courage to stand up for what they believed was right and fair.

We have done little minor jobs here and there. But what particularly fine constructive work did we accomplish? Some of the women in uniform let themselves be pushed around, used for minor tasks, or for simple decoration. Like a new kind of service ribbon.

Now the war is over. That was that. And what are the women going to do about the half-made peace? Are we again going to show ourselves imitators of men. If men decree there must be another war, are women going to join the ballet?

Do some women actually like war because it gives them new kinds of excitement?

Must Have Ideals
Perhaps some women enjoy war. But what of the mothers and the children and the wives of the men who were killed or hopelessly injured? The German women and the Japanese women must have better thought. Will they permit another war? Why can't women stop a war if they really want to stop it?

Men have made a terrible mess of civilization. We are saying this—sing-song "Give woman a chance." Very well, here is your chance in 1946. Take a good look at the reconstruction of the world. Don't sit back and say, "But men don't like the kind of women who have ideas."

That is utter nonsense. The real charmers of history had ideas. And used them, too. The principal reason women do not use their ideas, mostly half formed, is because it is real work to use ideas. Especially if you are a woman.

This much is certain—if women do not use their ideas and live up to their ideals by the end of this New Year, if they do not justify their existence by other than the old sex route, they will be back in the kitchen and the boudoir. And that, my dear, is where we truly belong.

Thus comes the New Year's resolve. It is not a lot of words. It is facts!

RAW VEGETABLES

The vegetables which are usually eaten raw are cheer leaders. They do not provide much nourishment. They contain vitamins and minerals but no calories to speak of.

They seem to help the appetite and add to the joy of eating. They usually have a pretty color and make a little music at meal time, too.

Carrots, radishes, cabbage, celery, endive and other raw vegetables are valuable. The more color they have, the better they are, but they also need milk and eggs and meat and butter and corn bread and potatoes and other things, too.

Sometimes mother gives too much attention to the cheer leaders and not enough to the team.

Protein and carbohydrate and fat are the big boys who play the same.

A reader in Fremont, Mich., criticizes my column as follows:
"I tossed your column aside the first time I read it as too unsophisticated, too sort of country doctorish, even trivial."

But then she goes on:

Somewhat I feel that I liked her criticism a bit better than her praise.

Sophistication as about the cheapest thing anyone can possess.

Weber defines it as "deprived of original simplicity; made artificial, worldly wise through experience, disillusionment or the like; highly complicated."

The world is full of sophisticates, and in my opinion, are responsible for much of the trouble through which we are going right now.

Personally I hope I shall always remain simple and naive.

I hope that I shall always be able to maintain the country doctor's attitude—the country doctor who is always willing to help and to whom all patients are neighbors and friends.

Mercer Couple Given Surprise

MERCER, Jan. 3.—The Reformed Presbyterian (Covenant) congregation held their annual New Year's dinner, followed by a business meeting at noon Tuesday at the church on West Market street, Mercer, which was featured by a surprise wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Broadbent, of North Pitt street, Mercer, who were married 45 years ago at the home of the bride in Mercer.

Mr. Broadbent was at his home when a car called for him, informing him that he was wanted at the church, where he was met by his wife. The couple was extended congratulations by the minister, Rev. branch. It means that the pressure groups will intrude importantly into every situation, and the tendency in Senate and House to avoid offending any organized minority will be enhanced. All of which makes for action influenced by political fears, which often is worse than no action at all.

AS FOR the prosperity of 1946, concerning which labor as well as industrial and governmental economists appear to agree, that has almost as chilling an effect upon remedial and reform efforts, either legislative or executive, as the politics inseparable from the election year. Such prosperity breeds popular inertia in public affairs. It adds greatly to the difficulties of creating anything resembling moral indignation among the people over either political corruption or incompetency. If greatly lessens the interest of the average man or woman in government. It spreads an awful indifference toward politics and politicians. It promotes a form of mind where the average citizen, even when he understands, just does not care. And that is as dangerous a state as well can be conceived.

AS FOR this 1946 prosperity, no one argues against it. Everyone accepts it as sure. True, long months of industrial-labor turmoil stretch ahead. True, reconversion has been retarded. True, the Administration has no satisfactory labor policy, and neither the unions nor the employers seem able to find a basis for amicable agreement. True, too, prices are advancing and living costs mount, keeping pace with wages—in fact, running always a little ahead. Handicaps of one sort or another prevent business from the speed and expansion of which it is capable. And always there is the increasing danger of inflation. Nevertheless, taking all these things—and others—into consideration, the conviction is strong that prosperity for this year—and probably for several to follow—is inevitable. That only incredible governmental stupidity could seriously interfere. The demand for our goods of all kinds, here and abroad, plus an unprecedented purchasing power among the people will make the latter half of 1946 a period of booming activity with every line busy and no widespread unemployment.

THAT IS the situation as the authorities see it. It sounds like a good year—and from several angles it will be. But from the long view the combination of politics and prosperity is not a felicitous one. Politics of the kind are sure to be played this year ultimately would destroy prosperity, and prosperity of the swollen kind now scheduled promotes political inertia and encourages politicians to misbehave. Concededly, this is a dim view to take of the New Year but the chances are that before it is very old developments will justify it.

should be, but I never expected things to be as they are now." In answering this mother, I tried to put myself into the place of the father. I can see how she feels. The quick assemblying into the perfect family she had pictured has not happened. Nor have the father's dreams over the months all come true for him. I have tried to recall my return from World War I, when our older two children were about 3 and 5.

As I recall, and as Mrs. Myers assures me now, I was a bit slow at swinging into responsibility for the children and companionship with them, though my longest single absence was not over six months. How much harder if I had never seen either child before I returned.

I begged this mother to keep on being patient and lovely to her husband and hope to win him gradually to try harder to gain that baby's love and companionship. I tried to help her see that if she let herself scold him for his disappointing ways she would make him worse. Hard as it might be, I hope she builds on his strengths and wins him gradually through celebrating his successes, however small and few. I enclosed my little leaflet, "Fathers are Parents, too."

I wish most fathers, especially returning veteran fathers, might read it. I wish, moreover, the returning fathers might feel they have a moral obligation for helping make the adjustments and should not expect all the efforts and adaptations to be made by the mother. In spite of the difficulties facing the returning home of the veteran, I have a notion that most of these families are going to be happily reunited, thanks to the self-discipline and big soul of both father and mother.

State Pork Crop Lowest In 4 Years

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The smallest pork output in Pennsylvania in four years was reported today for 1945 by the State Agriculture department.

The 892,000 pigs produced on Keystone state farms last year represented a 15 per cent decline from 1944, it was reported.

"No hope for increasing pig production during 1946 is given," officials stated. "Farmers have indicated intentions to breed only 83,000 sows for spring farrowings, the same number farrowed in 1945."

The decrease in production was prompted by low prices and a scarcity of feed.

COMMANDO KELLY WILL BE FATHER

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Charles E. (Commando) Kelly, Pittsburgh's famed Congressional Medal of Honor winner, is going to become a father.

Commando and Mrs. Kelly—the former May Boisch—revealed the forthcoming happy event in their home today. The arrival is expected in June.

Kelly wasn't quite sure whether he hoped for a boy or a girl. She was undecided on her own choice. But one thing both agreed. Neither wanted anything to grow up to be a soldier.

"There won't be anymore soldiers in this family, if I can help it." And Mrs. Kelly heartily concurred.

Two-Headed Baby Is Born

BIRMINGHAM, England, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Condition of the two-headed baby girl born to the English wife of a discharged American soldier today remained unchanged.

Each head was fed normally twice this morning but little hope was held out that the infant will survive.

The 21-year-old mother, whose husband now is in the United States, was informed of a report that the War department in Washington may grant her husband permission to visit Birmingham.

Disclosing that her husband had been discharged from the army, the young mother, in a note slipped out through a nurse, expressed the hope they would soon be reunited.

Strict secrecy concerning identity of the mother and father is being maintained by members of the Selly Oak hospital where the baby was born.

The infant has two separate heads and necks, joined at the shoulder, but one trunk.

Strike Would Cut Meat Supply In Short Time

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Immediate curtailment of meat supplies to consumers and almost complete stoppage of the supply in five days were predicted by industry spokesmen today if 200,000 packinghouse workers strike Jan. 15 as scheduled.

The strike call was issued yesterday by Lewis J. Clark, International president of the CIO Packinghouse Workers union, to enforce the union's demand for a wage increase of 25 cents an hour.

Clark said the packers had offered an increase of 7 1/2 cents an hour, which was rejected. He added, however, that the workers would not strike if the packers would agree to an immediate wage hike of 17 1/2 cents an hour, with the balance to be negotiated later.

Principally affected by a strike would be the "Big Five" in the packinghouse industry—Swift, Cudahy, Armour, Wilson and Morrell. An additional 100,000 workers in independent packing plants and Allied industries would be forced into idleness, it was estimated.

Johann von Schiller, famous German poet and dramatist, was born at Marbach, Wurttemberg, Germany, in 1759. His father was a military surgeon and captain, and his mother an innkeeper's daughter.

Pearl Harbor Probe Counsel Is Appointed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Pearl Harbor committee has selected Seth W. Richardson, Washington attorney, as chief counsel for the committee, succeeding William D. Mitchell.

Committee Chairman Barkley (D), Ky., said that Richardson would begin immediately to sit with the committee and to confer with Mitchell and the present legal staff. Barkley said that he "hoped" no recess of the committee's activities would be necessary in the transition. Richardson, who is 65 years of age, is a former assistant attorney general and served in this capacity when Mitchell was head of the Justice department. Richardson received his legal training in the mid-west and since leaving government service has practiced in Washington.

Barkley said that Mitchell would continue as legal counsel for the committee "at least" until Admiral Harold R. Stark completes his testimony.

Ask Tool Return To Auto Mechanic

During the fire at the A & P store on South Mercer street some nights ago, it was feared the building north of it might go also, and the doors of the Nash agency were opened, and preparations made to move out materials and automobiles.

In the excitement many tools were taken in addition to materials found around a service garage. One of the mechanics lost his entire tool kit, valued at $300. This loss is not covered by insurance and to make such an outlay of money at this time would be a hardship on the mechanic.

An appeal was made today by Clayton Bryan, that whoever got the tools return them to the agency. No questions will be asked.

Bureau Begins Preparing For State Elections

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The state elections bureau was preparing today for the first time in a decade to slate three parties on the primary election ballot May 21.

Prohibitionist candidates will be placed on the ballot with Republican and Democratic aspirants if the so-called "dry" party meets all requirements fixed by the election code.

The bureau reported the party's candidates for the state superior court in the election last November polled the required two per cent of the highest vote cast in the state to slate candidates this year.

However, another provision of the 1937 election code also requires parties to have two per cent of the greatest vote cast in at least 10 counties to slate primary tickets. The bureau has requested county election officials to notify it by March 12 whether the Prohibitionists had qualified in their counties. Unofficial reports indicated the party had met all requirements.

Vote Polled In November Statewide results of the appellate court balloting disclosed that Charles Palmer, of Ridley Park, polled 44,627 votes last November or more than the required two per cent of the ballots cast for incumbent Judge John C. Arnold, of Clearfield, who led the Republican ticket.

Arnold received 1,281,310 votes on the GOP ticket and 15,506 as a candidate under the American Labor party banner, the ALP, which Democrats charged was a GOP-front organization, failed to meet the requirements for slating candidates this year.

Arnold's running mate, Incumbent W. Heber Dittich, of Coraopolis, received 1,277,164 votes including 13,980 ALP ballots, the bureau reported.

On the Democratic side, Judge A. Marshall Thompson, of Gibsonia, captured 1,057,119 votes and John Morgan Davis, of Philadelphia, 1,021,329.

Palmer's running mate, C. Wilfred Conrad, of Lancaster, tallied 22,173 votes on the Dry slate, the bureau added.

The ALP, target of Democratic party leaders throughout the 1945 campaign, failed by more than 10,000 votes to win a place on the 1946 ballot. The so-called independent Labor group failed to qualify in any of the commonwealth's 67 counties.

Members of the Shenango township fire department were called out on New Year's Day to the home of Howard Walters at Gardner.

Upon arriving at the scene, the firemen found smoke issuing from the home but an investigation revealed that the smoke was coming from the furnace in the cellar which had become overheated.

Other than that caused by the smoke, no damage resulted to the home.

"Hey, Ref—aren't you out of bounds?"

IN basketball or business, Americans expect fair play all down the line.

In basketball, the referee is there to see that the game is played according to the rules. But he's not a player.

In business, the referee is the government, which establishes regulations for fair practices.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Take government-owned electric power systems, for example. They pay little or no taxes. When they need money, they call on the U. S. Treasury and get it at little or no interest. If they have losses, why worry? You, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

Business-managed power systems, on the other hand, do not have these special privileges. They pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on any loans.

It is a tribute to American self-reliance that tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over 4 5 of the tremendous amount of electricity used in this country.

The same forethought and experience which furnished electric power for a global war will assure America dependability—and cheap—electric service for a post-war world. And businessmen can do the job better than bureaucrats.

Seeks To Revive Old Stamp Club

An effort is being made by John Hitch of 526 Bell avenue to revive the now extinct New Castle Stamp club which ceased functioning as an organization in 1928.

According to Mr. Hitch, the club operated for a number of years in the Y. M. C. A. and was directed by John Dunfee, but due to a lack of interest at the time, the club ceased operating.

Old and new members can get in touch with Mr. Hitch at his address or call him at 2088-J and if a sufficient number are interested, the club will be reorganized.

"Every housewife can help prevent soap shortages by turning in used fats!"

says CLINTON P. ANDERSON
Secretary of Agriculture

"It is just as important now as when fats and oils were rationed to save and turn in every bit of used kitchen fat. Used fats continue to be one of our most important sources of supply for the manufacture of soap and for other industrial uses. It may be many months before we can obtain adequate supplies of imported fats and oils for these uses. Meanwhile, housewives can help prevent soap shortages by turning in used fats, and dealers can help by continuing collections."

WE'RE STILL far below the minimum requirements in our supply of industrial fats. Any letup in saving used fats will lower this supply... may mean less soap, for your used fats are needed to help make soap. Here's what you as a housewife can do!

EVERY DROP of used fats you save helps the soap supply... helps bring back more soap to your dealer's shelves sooner. So keep on your fat-salvage job—help yourself get more soap. And remember, you get 4c a pound when you turn in used fat to your butcher.

Five Motherless Children Seeking Good Homes Today

Father Gets Drunk, Beats Up Housekeeper, Offers Five Children For Adoption

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Five young children of nearby Portage today feel lost and bewildered.

From his cell in Cambria county jail, their father, Walter Miller, stood firm on his offer to give his youngsters to anyone who will take care of them.

Now, Gladys 16, Joseph 15, James 12 and 11-year-old twins Paul and Agnes don't know just what to expect. They are living with relatives in Portage.

Denies Statement On Jewish Exodus

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Evening Star today declared that Lt. Gen. Sir Frederick Morgan, head of UNRRA in Europe, has denied a statement regarding a mass exodus of Jews from Europe attributed to him yesterday.

The general was quoted as saying that his words were "distorted." In his statement yesterday, Morgan was quoted as declaring that a secret world Jewish movement, designed to remove Europe's Jews to Palestine, had reached alarming proportions.

His presumed declaration was attacked bitterly by Jewish leaders in various parts of the world.

January 31 THE LAST DAY

FOR MEN NOW IN THE ARMY TO RETAIN THEIR PRESENT GRADES BY REENLISTING...

Men now in the Army who reenlist before February 1 will be reenlisted in their present grade. Men who have been honorably discharged can reenlist within 20 days after discharge in the grade they held at the time of discharge, provided they reenlist before February 1, 1946.

There's a long list of attractive reenlistment privileges in the new Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945. The ability to keep your present grade is only one of them, but this privilege expires on January 31.

There are plenty of other reasons why many thousands of men have enlisted, and more thousands are enlisting every day. You'll certainly want to know all of the opportunities open to you. If you'll read them carefully, you'll know why a job in the new peacetime Regular Army is being regarded as "The Best Job in the World."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (One-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with at least 6 months' service.)
2. Enlistment age, 17 to 34 inclusive, except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and for former service men, depending on length of service.
3. Men reenlisting retain their present grades, if they reenlist within 20 days after discharge and before February 1, 1946.
4. The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing in the history of our Army.
5. An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
6. Up to 90 days' paid furlough, depending on length of service, with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who enlist.
7. A 30-day furlough every year at full pay.
8. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.
9. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. (Retirement income in grade of Master or First Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
10. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.
11. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist before July 1, 1946.
12. Opportunity to learn one or more of 200 skills and trades taught in Army schools in U. S. or occupied countries.
13. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in the Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.
14. Privilege of benefits of National Service Life Insurance.
15. Reserve and A.U.S. commissioned officers who are released from active duty may be enlisted in Grade 1 (Master Sergeant) and still retain their reserve commissions.

Priorities On New Students At Penn State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Pennsylvania State college announced today that applicants for admission to the March, 1946, semester would be limited to former Penn State students resuming their education after leaving the armed services.

A series of priorities announced by President Ralph D. Hetzel virtually eliminated from consideration about 800 students who had been added to the present student body out of the more than 2000 men and women who have applied for admission. More than 1500 veterans have applied for re-admission, he added.

"In these circumstances," Hetzel said, "the trustees and officers of the college feel that first consideration must be given to those who left the college in response to the nation's call to arms. We promised them opportunity to return to college and we must keep faith."

"Unfortunately, in order to do this," he explained, "it will be impossible to accept civilian freshmen students for the coming semester. This has made necessary the cancellation of some admissions already granted."

He pointed to the acute housing shortage at the college and emphasized that some married veterans were living in a trailer community of 100 units near the campus. A similar number of trailers was expected to be added soon.

Priorities Announced
"Policies governing admissions in September, 1946, cannot be determined until some time in March when more is known about accommodations," Hetzel said.

The priorities announced by Hetzel were:

A. Veterans who left Penn State for military service.

B. Disabled veterans under the terms of public law 16 who are Pennsylvania residents and admissible to Penn State at a level above that of first semester freshmen.

C. Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents, who were enrolled at Penn State in the A.S.T.P., V-12, and A.A.F. programs.

D. Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents, who were enrolled in A.S.T.P., V-12, and A.A.F. at other institutions.

E. Veterans who are not residents of Pennsylvania, who were enrolled in the A.S.T.P., V-12, and A.A.F. at other institutions.

The other ratings:

F. Veterans who are Pennsylvania residents and who apply for transfer from other colleges.

G. Veterans who were graduated from Pennsylvania high schools, but did not enter college prior to going into military service.

H. Veterans who were graduated from Pennsylvania high schools, but did not enter college prior to going into military service.

I. Veterans who were graduated from Pennsylvania high schools, but did not enter college prior to going into military service.

IN THE OPEN

The outdoorsman who keeps in touch with the doings in fields and woods usually manages to get in a bird hike sometime around the turn of the year. This annual checkup has become popularly known as the Christmas census. In order to be in style I journeyed down the valley below the house twice during the holiday week and compiled a total of 15 resident species and two winter visitors.

The first of these two journeys took place during a bitterly cold morning. There was no sun, but the wind had fallen, and the thickets came alive as the feathered folk hunted breakfast. I made the first halt in a swampy stand of water elm, perhaps a quarter-mile from the house. For a moment or two the area seemed devoid of any activity. Then a small brown bird coasted in from the hillside and landed low down on the trunk of one of the elms.

Not Bothered by Cold
The numbing cold did not seem to bother this fellow at all. He began a minute inspection of the tree trunk, spiraling upward in a manner that gave him thorough coverage of the rough bark foraging grounds. He was so conscientious in his work that I doubt if a single spider egg escaped his slender, probing bill. When he neared the top of the elm he seemed satisfied that the tree had been properly "worked" and dropped down to the base of a neighboring tree, to begin again the diligent, spiral upward search for food.

This little brown bird, somewhat smaller than the common English sparrow, was the brown creeper, number one on my Christmas list. He is a sterling character, well known to the bottom and working his way up in the world. Occasionally he may be seen during the warm months, but it is usually in the cold winter woods that we encounter him in this territory.

Downy Woodpeckers
After the creeper had broken the spell, the thicket soon entertained the usual troop of year-round residents. A pair of downy woodpeckers, in company with one lone larger cousin, the hairy woodpecker, came through to inspect the tree tops. The larger bird found a soft spot in one branch, and chipped out a shower of woody debris as he probed for grubs. The downies were quite talkative, and kept up a running fire of comment concerning my presence in their backyard.

From further down the valley, the familiar "yank, yank" of the white-breasted nuthatch announced the approach of this tree acrobat. Soon a group of these birds moved into the thicket where I stood. I am always amazed at the sight of this gray bird moving about head downward in the treetops. Zenith and nadir must surely be as one to him, for he gets about in his aerial hangout as easily as the housefly treads the ceiling.

Carolina Wren
I left this wooden spot and crossed the weed-choked flat to the creek-side where the valley stream negotiates a wide lazy bend. Here in a flood-water tangle I came across bird number five of the year-end census. This was another brown bird, somewhat smaller than the English sparrow, but with the nervous excitability which clearly spelled wren. It was the Carolina wren, largest of this family, and the source of much beautiful bird music in this valley almost the year around.

A pair of song sparrows flitted back and forth across the creek, flying close to the water, and scolding me in a vociferous manner that brought in the neighbors to find out what the fuss was all about. A pair of cardinal grosbeaks and a whole gang of black capped chickadees and tufted titmice came into the area and set up a general hullabaloo which continued until I moved on down stream.

When I returned to the warmth of the valley house I noted several pigeons, a large flock of starlings and a group of English sparrows feeding about the barns across the highway. They brought the total for the first trip afield to 12 bird species.

Picture Changed
At the close of the holiday week, the weather picture had changed completely. When I made the second tour of the valley the thermometer stood in the high 30's and intermittent spurts of rain helped dissolve the melting snow. A pair of crows greeted me, flapping slowly across the bottomlands as I climbed the back yard fence. I stood in shoulder high old-field growth a short time later and watched a lone wild duck, scared off the ponds created by coal stripping some years ago. This bird had been flushed by a pair of youthful trappers making the rounds of their muskrat settings.

While I watched the duck circle and drop onto the stream, a single goldfinch flew across the valley, looping along in his characteristic flight, and a small group of Canada sparrows moved through the weed patch close enough for me to see clearly the two whitish bars on their wings. The census closed out at 17 species when a hen pheasant clattered out of the weeds and bustled off across the creek. This is a very ordinary score, but not too bad for the limited terrain covered.

Air Squadrons In Future Plan For State Guard

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's skyways will be guarded by at least three air squadrons under tentative plans outlined today by Brig. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, supervising reorganization of the state's National Guard.

Stackpole emphasized that the plans have not been definitely adopted by the Army's National Guard Bureau and much would depend upon whether Congress continued compulsory military training.

Three Air Squadrons

Under tentative arrangements, he explained, three air squadrons and ground echelons composed of approximately 3,000 men would be included in the postwar guard of more than 40,000 troops. Stackpole said the "great majority" of air troops would be fighter units.

The Army Air Forces at Washington contemplates formation of 84 National Guard air units including 72 fighter squadrons.

The army maintains a huge maintenance and supply base at Middletown, nine miles from Harrisburg, while a landing strip is available at the Indiantown Gap military reservation.

Stackpole explained that the army was expected to inform the state "within a week or so" of its outline for postwar guard units after which commonwealth officials would confer with War department officers on definite plans.

To Recruit Air Force

The air force guardsmen, to be recruited from among Pennsylvanians who served in the AAF during the war, will be trained in the commonwealth, he added.

Stackpole pointed out that ground crews will be an important link in the organization "because it takes from six to nine men to keep a fighter pilot in the air."

Under plans for reorganization of National Guard units, he explained, "first priority will be given to divisions and air units of an appropriate type."

The commonwealth's 10-year aviation expansion program outlined by the Aeronautics commission at an anticipated cost of $34,512,700 was expected to prove a valuable aid in the training and operation of the National Guard air units.

The construction program was designed to develop a network of landing fields so that municipalities of 5,000 or more will be within five miles of an airport.

Greek Christmas Is Next Monday

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Christmas will be celebrated throughout western Pennsylvania next Monday by the congregations of the Greek Catholic churches.

Midnight masses and carol singing will feature the celebrations which observe the birth of Christ 13 days after December 25, according to the Julian calendar which they follow.

Among the groups holding religious services are Russians, Romanians, Ukrainians, Carpatho-Russians and Hungarians.

81,000,000 CHICKS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Eighty-four million chicks were hatched by Pennsylvania poultrymen during 1945, it was reported today by the Department of Agriculture. The year's output was approximately 41 per cent above the production in 1944.

TESTS SHOW ARMY JEEP UN- SUITED FOR FARM USE

News dispatches revealing that 10,000 army jeeps have been declared as surplus and ready for distribution cause additional interest in the results of tests made with these vehicles at the Pennsylvania State college. Tests showed the army jeep unsuited for heavy tractor work on farms.

To avoid confusing the army jeeps with those newer models being made for commercial distribution since the war's end, it is pointed out that the college tests were made only with the standard army jeep. These vehicles may prove serviceable as a light pickup truck or in hauling small loads.

In determining possible farm use, the tests showed army jeeps can be employed for such chores as pulling hay wagons, but not for plowing purposes. Newer models, made since the war's end for civilian sales, have been supplied with heavier transmissions and have better drawbar performance.

Veterans have preference in purchases of the surplus equipment.

Average Ex- 'GI Joe' Wants To Be Own Boss

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Mr. Average Ex-GI Joe seems to have one ambition in life—"Be his own boss or bust."

That was the opinion expressed today by Harkey Reiter, information advisor for the Smaller War Plants Corporation, soon to be taken over by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Reiter told International News Service that "it is amazing how many ex-GIs want to strike out for themselves."

"Virtually every one of them," he declared, "claims to be tired of being ordered around."

Reiter said he spoke from experience gained in his duties in the Third Region of the SWPC, comprising eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Thousands of servicemen from the Middle Atlantic states, he asserted, have placed requests with the SWPC for surplus government property.

Many of the ex-GIs, however, apparently have been steered wrong in being told that the SWPC can supply them with practically any kind of surplus property they desire.

"A lot of veterans," Reiter said, "either don't know any different or merely forgot it, but they think we can supply them with anything."

"It is only surplus war property," the corporation can attempt to obtain for potential ex-GI purchasers."

Reiter told of one veteran who learned to his dismay that the SWPC couldn't help him obtain property for use in his business. The veteran sold dolls and doll carriages.

"I had to tell him," he said, "that we didn't fight a war with dolls and doll carriages."

Strange items are sought, Reiter pointed out, and oddly enough the corporation does have available such unusual "war" property as ice cream freezers and soda fountains.

"They weren't used on the battlefield," he explained, "but the post exchanges had them."

The most common item asked for is an automobile, according to Reiter. About 4000 requests have been made by veterans in the last six months for cars, he added.

But, Reiter continued, this is another scarce item.

"In the last six months," he declared, "we only had three or four cars available, and they were 'grave yard junk.'"

Meet Disappointment

The whole trouble is, Reiter contended, that "the boys are coming out faster than the equipment."

"Thus," he explained, "when ex-GIs apply for property, they usually meet with a great deal of disappointment because it isn't around."

"We try to help them as much as possible and often go to great extremes to do so."

Some of the requests are very strange, Reiter said. He cited the application of a lawyer for a shotgun, as well as the request of two zoo-suited clowns for a "state liquor store."

Surplus property, Reiter pointed out, is available to veterans for use in business or professions, but federal agencies, states, municipalities, and tax-free institutions all get a whack at purchasing it ahead of the ex-GIs.

Strange Snow Tracks Are Explained By Fox

Recently a visitor at Gaston Park was mystified at the form of some tracks in the snow in that vicinity and sought an explanation from Owen Fox, the city forester.

This track came across an open piece of ground about 250 feet in length. The tracks were about four inches wide and three inches deep, and did not run along straight, but veered occasionally to the right, and then to the left.

The visitor called Owen's attention to the fact that these strange tracks ended about three feet from the base of a large maple tree in the park. Mr. Fox explained to him that this track in the snow was made by a traveling squirrel who made the three-foot jump to the tree trunk, then pumped his tail to rid itself of the accumulated snow on his cross-country trek.

Upon reaching the tree, Mr. Fox and his visitor on examining the tree found a hole about 10 feet up the size of a cup. Giving the trunk some vigorous kicks, they were surprised to see a little head peering out of the hole, which proved to be a small field mouse. Owen explained that the little fellow had availed himself of this shelter possibly from marauding hawks, owls or crows. About four years ago this same "home" was the nesting place of some bluebirds in the month of May.

Plan To Discuss Repair Of Roads

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer will meet at Harrisburg tomorrow with district engineers and superintendents to discuss the spring road repair program.

Shroyer explained that incessant rains coupled with freezing temperatures had caused roadbeds to be thoroughly saturated and there was danger of highways "buckling or heaving" should sudden thaws or freezes occur.

"The employees of the highway department are ever cognizant of the threat to safe driving and the dangers created by these conditions, and are constantly on the alert with the thought of being prepared for any eventuality."

Adopt Budget, Tax Ordinances

Council met for the first time this year in council chambers, city hall and during the session adopted the appropriation and tax ordinance.

The estimated cost of operating the city this year is given as $748,835 and the tax millage has been set at 12 mills, or the same as was effective in 1945.

Included in the $748,835, is an appropriation of $39,900, for capital outlay or new equipment. However, in this is approximately $25,000, for repairs at the city's disposal plant.

News Briefs From City Hall

Chief of police Robert D. Hanna today reported "two deaths since the first of the year is a bad get-away". He referred to the two auto fatalities of last night, one man having been killed here and the other in Wampum.

City council is now operating under the new appropriation and tax bills, both having been adopted when council met this morning in city hall. Relative to a half million dollars bonded indebtedness ordinance of which part will be used for a new city building, council has announced no site has yet been selected for a municipal structure.

With the return of former police who have been in uniform a more experienced department of police is functioning. All of them are being reinstated upon presentation of an honorable discharge. Many of the police either served in the navy's shore patrol or the army's MP's.

When council meets at 10 a. m. Monday in city hall Councilmen Joe D. Alexander and James Gibson and Controller W. A. Moore will be sworn into office for another term. The oath will be administered by the mayor during the council meeting.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Moses and the burning bush.

"And He said, certainly I will be with thee."—Exodus 3:12.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 6 is Exodus 1-5, the Memory Verse being Exodus 3:12. "And He said, Certainly I will be with thee.")

Long after Joseph's death, when he and the Pharaoh whose trusted servant he was, were long gone, the Jewish people, living mostly in Goshen where the land was fertile, multiplied with such rapidity that the reigning Pharaoh was troubled, fearing he said that in case of a war, this people would fight on the side of the enemy. There was no justification for such a fear.

He "made their lives bitter with hard bondage," building store or treasure cities for him. Still the Hebrews multiplied, and the Pharaoh then told the midwives that when a Hebrew woman gave birth to a son the midwife should kill the baby. The midwives did not obey, and when asked why they did not, they said the Hebrew women gave birth to their babies quickly, before the midwife arrived.

Next Pharaoh decreed that the mothers should drown their babies in the river. This is the first recorded instance of national anti-Semitism, which has plagued the world for so many years.

One Hebrew mother saved her baby by making an "ark" or basket of bulrushes or papyrus plant, which the Egyptians used to make light, swift boats. She daubed it with slime and pitch, put the baby in, and laid it in the reeds that grew by the river bank. He was three months old when his mother did this. His sister stood near to see what became of the child.

Princess Finds Child
Pharaoh's daughter, coming with her women to the river to bathe, heard him cry and had him brought to her. Recognizing that he was one of the Hebrew children, she yet resolved to save him. His sister asked the princess if she should get a Hebrew woman to nurse the child, and she consented, so the baby's own mother cared for him until his adopted mother took him, naming him Moses, "because I drew him out of the water."

So was this great man saved to lead his people out of the land where they were enslaved. As he grew to manhood he saw how burdened his people were, and one day he saw an Egyptian strike a Hebrew, and looking about to see that he was not observed, he killed the man, hiding his body in the sand. Then he fled to Midian, where he aided the priest's daughters when they were driven away by shepherds from watering their father's flocks. He stayed with this priest and his family, and married one of the daughters, Zipporah.

One day when Moses was tending his father-in-law's sheep, he saw a bush that flamed, but did not burn. He stopped to watch such a strange sight, when God called to him out of the burning bush, telling him that He had seen the sorrows of His people and Moses was to go to Pharaoh and ask him to let the Israelites go three days' journey into the wilderness to sacrifice to their Lord.

Told To Take Brother Aaron

Moses said he was not the man to persuade the Pharaoh, or the people of Israel to go with him, and finally the Lord told him to take his brother Aaron, who was a good talker, and they could work together. Moses complained that no one would believe him when he said he was sent from God, so God told him to throw his rod on the ground, and when he did so it turned into a serpent. Then God said, "Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail," and when Moses did so it became again a rod. Then he was told to put his hand into his bosom, and as he drew it forth it was white with leprosy. Again putting it in and withdrawing it, it was as the rest of his flesh. These wonders would prove that the Lord was directing him.

Moses took his family and went back to Egypt and told Aaron all these things and did the signs before the people, and they believed what he said. The two then went to Pharaoh and asked that the people should be allowed to go three days' journey into the desert to sacrifice unto their Lord, but he would not allow it. In fact, he punished them for even thinking of going away by taking away the straws with which they made bricks, making them go out to get their own. He demanded that they make the same number of bricks as before they had to go out and find their own straw.

Suffering from this bitter burden, the people complained bitterly to Moses and Aaron, and Moses returned to the Lord and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that Thou hast sent me? "For since I came to Pharaoh to speak in Thy name, he hath done evil to this people; neither hast Thou delivered Thy people at all."

How the Lord answered Moses, how his faith was restored, and what He did next must be left to another lesson.

State Polio Cases

Below '44 Totals

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A spokesman for the State Health department said today that only about one-half the number of Pennsylvanians were stricken with infantile paralysis during 1945 compared with the previous year.

He explained that totals, subject to revision, showed that 734 persons were afflicted with the disease last year while 1451 Pennsylvanians were stricken in 1944.

Ten counties—Bedford, Clarion, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Indiana, Snyder and Wyoming—were free of the disease during 1945 he added.

A total of 206 cases were listed in Philadelphia while 96 were recorded in Delaware county, 81 in Montgomery county and 73 in Allegheny county.

Accident Victim Wins 'Death Race'

Hold Jugular Vein Of Auto Crash Victim As He Is Rushed To Hospital

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Jan. 3.—(INS)—A furious "death race" during which an auto accident victim's jugular vein was held together with fingertips today probably saved the life of Peter Zazzi, Corona, N. Y.

Zazzi was injured in a collision between an automobile and a produce truck on Route 35 in Mansfield township.

Two Florence township rescue squad members—Fred Linda, 35, of Bordentown, and Nelson Bennett, 35, of Roebing, N. J.—dragged Zazzi from the wreckage, saw that he was bleeding profusely, and thus began the 30-minute race with death.

The injured man was placed in the rescue squad ambulance and working in relay Linda and Bennett held Zazzi's served jugular vein together with thumb and forefinger. Rushed to St. Francis hospital authorities reported he was "improving steadily."

Doctors who operated on the injured man gave him a 50-50 chance of recovery "only because of the

Shirt Shortage Will Continue

Men's Apparel Exhibit In Philadelphia, But Shirts Are Not In Sight

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—An exhibit of men's apparel today was on display in Philadelphia, but exhibitors cautiously maneuvered around discussion of the "weird and chaotic" shortage of shirts.

On the sample tables was a gaily scattering of underwear, but the only shirts in sight were on the exhibitors' backs and there were a few shirts—untaken—even for those made clothing were represented at the show. There were to have been 70, but most of the absentees were makers of shirts and underwear.

Some 2000 buyers who weren't allowed to buy found among other items plenty of suspenders, a new patented seamless glove, a belt that stretches, a number of neckties and a sprinkling of socks.

There were a few woolen bathrobes in one room, but another room also allocated for display of robes had nothing on the tables except order books.

Reasons Explained
Thomas Wasson, secretary-treasurer of the Men's Apparel exhibit of Philadelphia, sponsor of the exhibit, said the purpose of the display was to explain "our plans for the coming season."

"What are your plans?" he was asked. "Principally good will," Wasson replied.

The exhibitors bemoaned shortages as being caused by lend-lease mills can't get cotton; manufacturers unable to pin down labor costs or mill prices for material; ex-servicemen have bought up all small and medium sizes.

Washington Women Like Nylons Also

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Nylons really caused a "run" in Washington.

Virtually all the capital's residential telephone exchanges were tied up for more than an hour when a local shoe store announced in a broadcast that the first 1,000 persons that telephoned would be given preference for a pair of nylons.

Radio station WRC, which made the announcement, frequently had to break into its regular programs to ask listeners to pull up on their calls.

Capalbo Leads County Cagers In Scoring Race

Wampum Ace Has 120 Points; Teammate Eddie Marich Second With 116

Totals compiled by The News sports staff show that "Jumper" Joe Capalbo, Butler-Hennessy Wampum ace, is the leading schoolboy basketball scorer in the county. Figures are inclusive of January 2 contests.

The Indians, who have played the most games so far this year, ten in number, and have four players among the "big ten" in scoring, but although no other school has met as many opponents, this fact does not detract from the point-getting ability of the Section 21 five.

Marich Pressing Capalbo—Eddie Marich, the other brilliant forward on the Hennessy machine, is rapidly closing the gap with his teammate Capalbo, and rests in second place with 116 points. He garnered 23 against Plum Township last Friday night.

The workhorse of the New Wilmington quintet, defending district champions, is Clyde Shaffer, their veteran forward, who is in the thick of the fight for honors with 97 points scored in the Greyhound contests so far.

Tied up with 86 points apiece are Dave Kanagy, another Wampum star, and Ellwood City's scintillating center and offensive threat, Joe Dougherty. The latter has been the mainstay of the Wolverine attack this season and seems destined for a big year in Section III.

Bessmer Has Two—Bessmer High's one-two punch, Donaldson and Nelson, have racked up 79 and 75 points respectively so far. Miller, Shaffer's running mate at New Wilmington, rounds out the ten leaders with 65 points for his total also.

The "Big Ten" list follows:

Player	Team	Points
Capalbo	Wampum	120
Marich	Wampum	116
Shaffer	New Wilmington	97
Kanagy	Wampum	86
Dougherty	Ellwood City	86
Donaldson	Bessmer	79
Nelson	Bessmer	75
C. Tanner	Shenango	76
Johnson	Wampum	65
Miller	New Wilmington	65

Ohio State May Ditch Widdoes

Paul Bixler Slated To Take Over Reins Of Buckeyes In 1946 Campaign

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Carroll Widdoes' immediate future as a football coach will be determined at a meeting of Ohio State university's athletic board.

Indications pointed to a change in the Bucks' gridiron high command, which Widdoes has headed for two seasons. Reports of a possible change arose in mid-season last fall when Widdoes' resignation was in the team's ranks.

The Bucks would up their 1945 Western Conference schedule with losses to Purdue and Michigan. Paul Bixler, assistant to Widdoes and the only other remaining member of the coaching staff that Paul Brown brought with him to the university in 1941, was regarded as the most likely candidate for the top football job if Widdoes relinquishes it.

Section Three Starts Friday
The main bout will be between Les Leasure, a pre-war local amateur star and Buddy Emerick who made Ale Emerick of McKeesport play turtle. This ought to be a Stittinger, 1 0 0 B. Pitzer, 1 0 0 Davis, 1 0 0 McGary, 1 0 0 Ward, 1 0 0 Smith, 1 0 0 Nolas, 1 0 0

Sectional Opening Will Find Ambridge High Battling At New Castle
Friday night, Jan. 4, will find the curtain rising on the 1946 Section 3 WPAL basketball race, and New Castle's first opponent at Washington High floor will be the "red-hot" Ambridge quintet. The prelim tomorrow night will start at seven o'clock.

Not for a number of years has there been as much interest in the Section Three race locally as this year, mainly due to the splendid showing of the Phil Bridenbaker toppers in winning five and losing but two pre-league tilts. Ambridge comes here undefeated in seven warm-ups.

Important Battle
There is a lot of importance attached to the opening Section Three game here Friday. It may have bearing on the championship. Coach Moe Rubenstein is going after the bunting with a team that has defeated Greensburg twice and Donora, the latter runners-up for the state title last year to Allentown.

New Castle finished in fifth place last year and Ambridge was in sixth place. Both will finish higher this year, that much is a foregone conclusion. New Castle won six and lost eight last year in the league, including three hairline decisions, to Farrell, Sharon and Beaver Falls. The "Bridgers" won five and lost nine.

Other Section Three games Friday are: Beaver Falls at Ellwood; Farrell at New Brighton; Sharon at Allentown.

Philadelphia Mites Trounced In Texas
GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Philadelphia's humbled Tasker Bears today knew how Mudville felt when the "Mighty Casey" struck out.

The Bears "struck out," too, in their attempt to capture a triumph in the first annual Oleander Bowl game, New Year's night against the Texas All-Stars.

The Bears were tamed, 27-0. But today, though beaten, battered and disappointed, the wound-lacking Bears, a staunch-hearted bunch of South Philadelphia sandlot gridders, aren't disheartened.

HAS UNTIL JANUARY 18
National Boxing association has granted Lightweight Champion Ike Williams until January 15, in which to sign for a defense of his crown.

Jimmy Gibbons To Box Daniels

Popular Ellwood City Novice Receives Reward For Game Fight Against Newkirk

Having gone through his pugilistic baptism against Benny Newkirk, a vicious hooker, several weeks ago, Jimmy Gibbons, lightweight of Ellwood City who in appearance is a Billy Conn II, will box Young Daniels of New Kensington in one of the eight battles Monday night in The Arena.

Gibbons deserved another bout at The Arena. Without having gone through a training siege he accepted a bout to box Newkirk when Benny's opponent failed to appear and while he lost the bout the applause he received plainly showed, had there been a badge of courage award, he would have received it.

He is coming from Ellwood City Monday to show the defeat did not mar his confidence and, if the Daniels-Gibbons set is as good as was the Newkirk-Gibbons fight, there will not be one fan who will have regretted having witnessed the evening's event.

Leasure in Main Bout
The main bout will be between Les Leasure, a pre-war local amateur star and Buddy Emerick who made Ale Emerick of McKeesport play turtle. This ought to be a Stittinger, 1 0 0 B. Pitzer, 1 0 0 Davis, 1 0 0 McGary, 1 0 0 Ward, 1 0 0 Smith, 1 0 0 Nolas, 1 0 0

Sectional Opening Will Find Ambridge High Battling At New Castle
Friday night, Jan. 4, will find the curtain rising on the 1946 Section 3 WPAL basketball race, and New Castle's first opponent at Washington High floor will be the "red-hot" Ambridge quintet. The prelim tomorrow night will start at seven o'clock.

Not for a number of years has there been as much interest in the Section Three race locally as this year, mainly due to the splendid showing of the Phil Bridenbaker toppers in winning five and losing but two pre-league tilts. Ambridge comes here undefeated in seven warm-ups.

Important Battle
There is a lot of importance attached to the opening Section Three game here Friday. It may have bearing on the championship. Coach Moe Rubenstein is going after the bunting with a team that has defeated Greensburg twice and Donora, the latter runners-up for the state title last year to Allentown.

New Castle finished in fifth place last year and Ambridge was in sixth place. Both will finish higher this year, that much is a foregone conclusion. New Castle won six and lost eight last year in the league, including three hairline decisions, to Farrell, Sharon and Beaver Falls. The "Bridgers" won five and lost nine.

Other Section Three games Friday are: Beaver Falls at Ellwood; Farrell at New Brighton; Sharon at Allentown.

Philadelphia Mites Trounced In Texas
GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Philadelphia's humbled Tasker Bears today knew how Mudville felt when the "Mighty Casey" struck out.

The Bears "struck out," too, in their attempt to capture a triumph in the first annual Oleander Bowl game, New Year's night against the Texas All-Stars.

The Bears were tamed, 27-0. But today, though beaten, battered and disappointed, the wound-lacking Bears, a staunch-hearted bunch of South Philadelphia sandlot gridders, aren't disheartened.

HAS UNTIL JANUARY 18

EPWORTH STAYS UNDEFEATED BY TOPPING SECOND

Score Is 36 To 32 In Torrid 'Y' Battle, St. Paul's And Baptists Win Also

Epworth church basketball team rode its victory spring to seven straight last night at the "Y" by edging the Second U. P. team 36 to 32 in a red-hot church loop battle to stay undefeated with a large crowd looking on. The score was tied at 17-17 at the half.

Second U. P. tried hard to overtake the Epworthians, but could not match the 1944-45 champions in field goals, the winners having 16 two-pointers and Second but 12. But, in fouls the Second U. P. team was tops with the brilliant record of 8 out of 9, while Epworth had but 2 out of 12.

McGary High Scorer
Ward was high scorer in the game for Epworth with 12 points, while Bus Davis had nine, and Old Man Wainio had six. For Second U. P. Johnny McGary was tops with 14 points, while Bob Pitzer had eight and Coach Dick Davis had six.

In the other two games on the bill the St. Paul's team came to life and surprised the Third U. P. team with a 25 to 21 score, while in the last game the Clinton Methodist quintet, 37 to 19, with Adams starting with 17 points.

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 3.—By winning 45-31 yesterday, the "Little Greyhounds" of New Wilmington High school evened the count against the George Washington Junior High five in basketball, having previously lost to the Alexander quintet.

Byer, with 12 points, Buchanan with 10, and Barr with 11, paced the home team in their win, while Sampson of the visitors netted himself 14 for the best individual effort of the contest.

Conn Gets Chance
It looked very possible that a western Pennsylvanian, Pittsburgh's Billy Conn, may become the next heavyweight champion after he fights the present titleholder, Joe Louis, next June.

Sammy Angott of Washington, and former lightweight champion, planned to continue his comeback attempt, but this will probably bog down in 1946 when Angott tangles with the better and younger talent coming out of uniforms.

Pirates Stronger
Fritzie Zivie will probably retire for good. He plans to enlarge Pittsburgh's Hickey Park, which he owns, and to take over direct control of his stable of at least 13 fighters. These have been under the control of his brother, Phil Fritzie put in his Air Force time.

The Pirates are certain to have a stronger team next season than they did this past summer and Manager Fred Frick and President Bill Benswanger both hoped it will be relatively stronger as well. The Frischmen should finish in the first division next baseball term.

Aldon Wilkie Will Report To Pirates
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Aldon Wilkie, left handed pitcher recently discharged from the armed forces, will report direct to the Pirates training camp at San Bernardino, Cal., next month, President William Benswanger today disclosed.

Wilkie, of Newberg, Ore., has been off the Pirates' active player list three years. He was purchased from the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league in 1940 and took part in 61 games with the Bucs during the next two seasons.

CLEVELAND MAN NAMED
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—James A. Lee of Cleveland has been appointed chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union's national boxing committee for 1946. He succeeds Eugene W. Driscoll of Boston.

Billy Conn Is Speeding South

Pittsburgh Heavyweight Going To Arkansas To Start Intensive Training

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Billy Conn today was speeding toward Hot Springs, Ark., where he will begin his six months training program which he hopes will lead him to the world's heavyweight championship.

Conn, accompanied by his New York trainer, Freddie Ferio, and Milton Jaffe, a friend, expects to remain at the resort six weeks.

The first thing on the training program is to get his legs in shape," Conn said.

The heavyweight contender, who meets Joe Louis in June, said he expects to return to Pittsburgh and then to New York to continue his training grind before he steps into the ring.

Clutch Hitters Mighty Scarce
Nick Etten In 152 Games Only Man To Drive In More Than 100 Runs In 1945

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Official accounts disclosed recently that hitting in the clutch was a lost art with American league batters in 1945.

Nick Etten of the New York Yankees won the league's runs-batted-in title by driving home only 111 rallies. This was the lowest total since 1929 when the tabulation of RBI's was adopted.

Etten Proves Tops
Furthermore Etten was the only player in the circuit able to drive in 100 or more runners. Roy Cullenbine of Detroit was second with only 93 runs driven in. Roy also drew the most bases on balls, 112.

Etten probably would not be the RBI title if Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers and Charley Keller of the Yankees had played all season. These two sluggers were hitting long balls with runners on the sacks after they returned from service.

It took Etten 152 games to knock in 111 runs. Greenberg played in 76 and drove in 60 runs for a better pace than Nick's. And Keller, who participated in only 44 games, drove in 34 runs.

Keller and Greenberg also were high in slugging percentage. Charley's mark was .577 and Hank's .544. Of the players who participated in 100 or more games, Jeff Heath of Cleveland snout with Washington was tops with an average of .506.

Hurt No-Hitter
Dick Fowler of the Athletics realized every hurler's ambition by pitching a no-hit, no-run game.

The veteran Rudy York of the Tigers grounded into the most double plays, 23.

As a team Cleveland broke the most records—four. Cleveland players also set the pace in individual records. For the second straight year, catcher Frank Hayes set two marks. He caught the most consecutive games, 308, and participated in the most double plays by a catcher, 29.

And Pat Seery tied two major league records—three home runs in one game and four long hits in a single game.

St. Mary's Meets West Side Quintet
St. Mary's "Big Five" will engage the undefeated West Side quintet of the House League in a basketball contest at the St. Mary's gym tonight at 8:30.

The "Saints" will rely upon their tested ace, Caver Guinbaugh and Covell, while the West Siders will have their star brother act, Al and Johnny Grieve, on the floor.

LEHIGH SCHEDULED
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Coach Roy M. Hawley today said his University of West Virginia team will meet Lehigh at Bethlehem, February 4, as part of their second eastern tour of the season.

The Mountaineers will open the trip February 2, against Temple at Philadelphia. Four days later they will meet the Army at West Virginia.

Government Has 'Indian Sign' Upon Scalpers

Very Little Scalping Took Place At Recent Army And Navy Game, Revealed

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A report from Uncle Sam's "T" men discloses today that they had the Indian sign over scalpers during the boom sports year of 1945 and Mr. John Q. Fan's toupe emerged for the most part unimpaired.

The revenue men don't mind if those stout hearted gents invest money in blocks of tickets and sell them to fans at premium rates—they don't mind it at all so long as they get their cut, which is a cool 20 percent over and above the original ticket price.

However, they explained, they step onto the scene when the scalpers won't share with them, and thus Mr. Fan may be protected from having his wallet thinned although it doesn't get him a ticket.

Explaining the workings of the government's system of making sure it isn't denied the tax out of scalpers' earnings, Philadelphia district internal revenue collector Francis R. Smith singled out the army-navy game.

Very Little Scalping
The contest, witnessed by 102,000 fans in Municipal Stadium, had a minimum of scalping primarily because the tickets were scarce to begin with, Smith pointed out. This also was the case in a great many other games throughout the season due to keved up sports interest and available dollars which purchased season tickets for fans.

Smith said about 100 agents were stationed at the gates and near the stadium for the service classic. They confiscated about 100 tickets which they saw being sold on the grounds.

There are a number of legitimate dealers who register with us and can sell the tickets provided they pay us a 20 percent tax over and above the original sale price," he pointed out. "If we find unauthorized persons selling tickets, we confiscate the tickets and tell the sellers they can claim them a few days later, but they never do."

Out Of Luck
Smith added that the number of confiscated tickets for the Army-Navy game was "far less than average," pointing out that there were fewer tickets available for scalpers because of the big demand and those who had tickets wouldn't sell them.

But the scalpers who were lucky enough to lay their hands on a pair of pasteborders and were lucky enough to re-sell them had easy pickings.

Seats in the upper tier behind the goal posts of the mammoth stadium brought $30 while tickets for the 40-yard line went for more than $100. The original sale price—$4.80.

New Wilmington Beats Sandy Lake
Score Is 28 To 21 As Shaffer Is Again Sparkplug In Greyhound Attack

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 3.—New Wilmington high school's Greyhounds swung back into the victory groove here last night as they turned back a Sandy Lake quintet in a 28 to 21 basketball game. The Eldermen copped the prelim by a 27 to 5 count.

Brilliant Clyde Shaffer again was the drivecheck for the Eldermen as he hit the hoops for five field goals and five charity throws for 15 points. Slater was the best for the "Lakers" with eight points.

Last night's contest finished the warm-up tilts for the Greyhounds for the season. Friday, Jan. 4, they will begin the defense of their Section 21 title when they entertain the Mt. Jackson flippers on the home boards.

Non-scoring subs: New Wilmington—Graham, Sandy Lake—Walker.

MARKET TREND IS REACTIONARY

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Prices dropped one to two points today to duplicate yesterday's reactionary trend on the Stock Market. Losses of a point or more were common in pivotal groups. Bethlehem Steel and U. S. Steel dipped as much as 2%. Motors tumbled fractionally. Profit takers were busy in aviation, chipping a half point off leading issues.

The Western Electric strike brought a point slump in American Telephone. Utilities, rail equipments, coppers and amusements sought lower levels. Meat packing issues eased.

Bonds were lowered.

Expansion Of U. S. Airlines Being Planned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—America's commercial airlines today predicted early expansion of passenger facilities to handle the growing demand for speedy domestic and world travel.

A survey of 1946 schedules and plans mapped by airlines disclosed that virtually all firms plan to expand facilities in the first few weeks or months of the new year.

This study revealed that by mid-year or fall most air transportation companies hope to treble or quadruple their carrying capacity.

For instance, Pennsylvania Central Airlines (PCA) has just announced an immediate 20 per cent increase in service between 40 key cities in its eastern-mid-western network.

The boost is being made possible by the addition of remodeled four-engine military transports which will carry greater loads faster between such cities as Washington, Chicago and Detroit.

Expect New Planes

Eastern Airlines is reconvertng 20 four-engine military transport models, some of which will be in service next month.

In addition, Eastern hopes that by spring it will get delivery of the new Martin 202 Commercial Transport which is under construction in Baltimore.

C. R. Smith, chairman of the board of American Airlines, said his firm planned to quadruple present service during 1946, and that the goal virtually will be achieved by mid-summer.

Pan American Airways System has been interested primarily in world routes but is hoping that the Civil Aeronautics Board soon will approve its application for domestic coast-to-coast service.

Meanwhile, Pan-Am is moving ahead with its program to girdle the world, and the first such flight is expected to be inaugurated on a regular schedule sometime next month.

United Airlines is busy reconvertng 17 four-engine military C-54 transports, the first of which are expected to be carrying domestic passengers soon.

Transcontinental & Western (TWA) for the present is stressing improvement of its world service, although some increase is planned in domestic facilities.

Musical numbers on the program will be given by Misses Dora King, Edna Alexander, Dora Ann Jones and Richard Mauldin.

Profit-Sharing Plan Presented

SPOKANE, Wash. Jan. 3.—(INS)—Spokane employees of Eric Johnston looked forward today to operation of a profit-sharing plan announced by the motion picture "czar" and president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Under the plan employees will have a voice in management, too.

Johnston heads the Brown-Johnston Retail Electric Co., and the Columbia Electric & Manufacturing Co. in Spokane. He said his plan is an "experiment" which may set a new pattern in labor-management relations. In explanation he stated: "We must bring industrial democracy to America. We have political democracy and we must have industrial democracy, too."

The profit-sharing phase of Johnston's program will set aside 25 per cent of the net profit before taxes for division on a point system among all employees who have worked there more than a year. The workers' voice in operating the firms will come through a "junior board of directors" elected by the employees.

Wednesday, Tim got a G. I. haircut—very short.
